

AIC YOUTH LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE June 15-17, 2005

The Association of Idaho Cities is proud to offer the Youth Leadership Conference in conjunction with its 58th Annual Conference. The program provides young people, ages 14 - 20 with a broad array of leadership skills and the fundamentals of understanding how to apply those skills to community problem solving. The Youth Conference will convene on Wednesday, June 15 and end on Friday, June 17. Several hundred city officials attend the AIC Annual Conference; the Youth Leadership Conference is expected to draw youth from around the state.

During the Conference, youth delegates will:

- ◇ Learn to accurately identify, understand and respect the feelings of others
- ◇ Learn how to work as a team and develop a positive self-concept and mental attitude
- ◇ Learn the fundamentals of ethics in leadership
- ◇ Develop the skills to effectively communicate and partner with adults
- ◇ Recognize the importance of and learn to plan and implement community service projects
- ◇ Learn the importance of strategic planning and how to become a strategic planner
- ◇ Recognize methods and tactics to have fun with community building
- ◇ Meet and work with city officials from their communities.
